

Drug Abuse: HIV/AIDS and Social Consequences

SYMPOSIUM SPONSORS

Institute for the Advancement of Social Work Research

Society for Social Work and Research

National Institute on Drug Abuse

(NIH: R13 DA016372-01)

January 16, 2004

Why this Symposium?

- IASWR commitment to developing research(ers) & translating research findings into practice, policy and further research.
- SSWR commitment to symposium within conference format to support intensive learning opportunity in an important subject area.
- NIDA commitment to supporting social work research(ers) and capacity building.

Symposium Purpose

- To bring together social work and other disciplinary researchers to disseminate research findings related to drug abuse and HIV/AIDS including key advances in....

Key Advances

- The science of prevention and intervention research with individuals, couples, groups, and communities, including structural interventions.
- Methodological advances in intervention research, including qualitative and quantitative approaches and randomized trials.

Presenters

(Biosketches in resource packet)

- Arlene Rubin Stiffman, Ph.D.
- Flavio Marsiglia, PhD
- Stephen Kulis, PhD
- James L. Sorensen, Ph.D.
- Louisa Gilbert, MSSW
- Nabila El-Bassel, DSW

Resource Packet

- Symposium Schedule
- Biosketches
- Information on sponsoring organizations
- References
- Resource list
- IASWR information
- Evaluation form

Schedule

- Presentations followed by moderated discussion period.
- Coffee breaks.
- Afternoon panel of all presenters discussing the day's presentation in relation to their work.
- NIDA's Jerry Flanzer will conclude with remarks to connect this symposium to NIDA's overall agenda.
- Symposium conclusion in time to attend the SSWR Presidential Plenary with address by Thomas Insel, NIMH Director.

Finding Us

- SSWR is all around during the next three days plus at www.sswr.org
- IASWR is at Exhibit Booth # 21 and at www.iaswresearch.org
- NIDA can be found at www.drugabuse.gov or www.nida.nih.gov

Thank you for your interest

- Your feedback is welcome through the evaluation form or to IASWR's email:

iaswr@naswdc.org