

Meet John Haselow

John H. Haselow is a veteran marketing and public relations professional. He has a Bachelor of Arts Degree in English and earned professional accreditation (APR) from the Public Relations Society of America.

He has written two booklets on marketing and is the author or ghostwriter of more than 325 feature articles for consumer and business publications. In 2002 he was named Distinguished Sales and Marketing Executive (SME) by Cleveland SME. He is also the founder and past president INBA, the 50-member, International Network of Business Advertising Agencies.

For the past 29 years he has been the owner and operator of Haselow Marketing in Cleveland.

He and his wife, Lois, have celebrated 50 years of marriage. They have three children and five grand children.

Haselow joined the Ohio Citizen Advocates For Chemical Dependency Prevention and Treatment Governing Board in 2009.

