

Meet Ross Chaban

Ross Chaban is in private practice at Health Connections in Sylvania as a counselor for individuals, couples, and families. He was nominated and selected to receive the Ohio Counseling Association's David Brooks Award in 2008. His credentials include Master's of Education, Licensed Professional Clinical Counselor-Supervisor, Licensed Independent Chemical Dependency Counselor, and Ohio Certified Prevention Specialist II.

Chaban, the first person without a Ph.D. to receive this award, has dedicated his time to serving as clinical supervisor for students and persons working towards licensure. He exemplifies what it means to give back to the profession of counseling.

He has been an OCA board member since 2001 and served as past president.
