

Family Torah School Open House and Special Sukkot Festival Program

Sunday, October 4th 9am-12pm Family Torah School Open House

Come and see our growing and dynamic Family Torah School with activities for Pre-K through 7th grade.

Activities include: A full program for children and parents. The Judaism for Parents 101 Kick-Off Session; Sukkot Festival Morning Services; Special Festival Session of the Family Torah School; and Kiddush in the Sukkah. Join us in Sukkah, sanctuary and classrooms in special learning in celebration of the Sukkot festival, the one the Rabbis called "THE HOLIDAY." Parents can join Rabbi Gartenberg for an introduction to the festival's customs, ritual, and meaning, and enjoy snack and lulav practice with their children before morning services begin. Community members welcome.

The Torah school will join the services in the sanctuary for the song-filled Hallel, Hoshanot for the first shaking of lulav of this holiday and the Torah processional. Join in the ancient Jewish tribal rain dances (especially important during these years of drought). Parents are encouraged to stay for the continuation of services, which will feature a running commentary on the Torah as it is read, or to assist with their children's special learning. (A detailed schedule for the morning may be found on the TBS website calendar.)
